

Practice Leadership Advantage

PROGRAM

EXPRESSION OF INTEREST

Are there things you want to do differently in your practice? How do you drive clinical change and quality improvement? How do you motivate your teams and colleagues?

The Practice Leadership Advantage Program is part of a suite of training programs offered by NCPHN to build the capacity and capability of general practices to:

- enhance existing and/or introduce new improved models of care that are patient-centred, comprehensive, quality driven, coordinated and accessible
- enhance existing processes for patients with complex and chronic conditions that optimize the outcomes for these patients
- be sustainable and adaptable in the emerging primary healthcare reform environment
- facilitate team members to work at the top of their professional scope of practice.

The aim of the Practice Leadership Advantage Program is to equip participants with enhanced leadership skills to influence and lead clinical and business change within their practice.

Run over nine (9) months, the Program includes:

- three full-day workshops
- one-on-one practice mentoring sessions via telephone, and
- the provision of quality workbooks and resources.

The Program is facilitated by Chris Bollen and Rod Buchecker from BMP Consulting. Chris is a GP and Director of GP Training at Queen Elizabeth Hospital. Rod is a business coach and mentor. The Program has been successfully delivered in a number of other PHNs and received excellent feedback from those who attended.

For more information, please refer to the Practice Leadership Advantage Program Synopsis.

If you would like to discuss the Program further, please contact Linda Ward, General Practice Quality Improvement Team Lead, on 6627 3322 or lward@ncphn.org.au

Who should participate:

The Program is targeted at general practice business and clinical leaders. In particular:

- General Practice principal/owners and/or
- General Practitioners, Practice Managers and/or Senior Practice Nurse who have been endorsed by the practice principal/owner to attend the program and lead improvement within the practice.
