What is it?

patient info is a public website for patients to find reputable information on health conditions and local health services. The resources listed are taken from the 'Patient Information' sections of the relevant HealthPathways clinical page.

The site supports GPs to educate their patients and improve health literacy by providing a range of peer-reviewed health information and resources.

patient info also contains a range of localised factsheets which are adapted from the HealthPathways clinical content.

How does this benefit my patients?

In practical terms, a GP is not able to provide multiple sources of patient information within a standard consultation. Directing patients to patient info, empowers them to download relevant, high-quality resources as needed.

GPs can be confident the resources provided are reputable as they were selected by local GPs and hospital specialists during the HealthPathways localisation process.

How do I direct my patients to the site?

To direct patients to patient info, use the cards provided and write the name of the patient's health condition as well as any other notes.

patient info cards are available from your North Coast PHN Quality Improvement Support Officer (QISO).

If you are running low, contact your QISO or email healthpathways@ncphn.org.au patient info is an initiative of North Coast Primary Health Network (NCPHN) and supported by funding from the Australian Government.

NCPHN is an independent, not-for-profit organisation committed to improving the health of our North Coast communities through quality primary health care. Find out more about NCPHN at www.ncphn.org.au
