

THE UNIVERSITY OF
SYDNEY

Discipline of Addiction Medicine

Opioid Treatment Accreditation Course

Pharmacotherapy training for the treatment of opioid dependence

www.otac.org.au

The Opioid Treatment Accreditation Course, or OTAC, and the Fundamentals Training course form part of the accreditation process for NSW medical and nurse practitioners to prescribe pharmacotherapies for the treatment of opioid dependence.

Fundamentals Training

Designed as a short, online introductory program, the Fundamentals Training course covers basic content around the NSW Opioid Treatment Program.

Opioid Treatment Accreditation Course

A full-day accreditation course covering all stages of patient treatment, from induction, to patient management, to cessation of treatment.

Medical and nurse practitioners undertake a half-day clinical placement with an addiction medicine or addiction psychiatry specialist, before applying to receive accreditation as a prescriber of opioid pharmacotherapies by the NSW Ministry of Health.

To enrol, visit www.otac.org.au

THE UNIVERSITY OF
SYDNEY

For more information

Find out how to get in touch with us

The University of Sydney Discipline of Addiction
Medicine

T 02 9515 9811

E otac.info@sydney.edu.au

W www.otac.org.au