Attendance: Virtual - Online

This free webinar will provide an outline of the HIV Nursing Model of Care used at Alfred Health. This will include the use of electronic medical record data to assess and drive improvements in HIV quality of care, innovative nurse led approaches, and reducing the risk of patients living with HIV becoming “lost to follow up”.

Target Audience: Nurses with experience working in HIV care.

Presenters:

Danielle Collins, HIV Nurse Practitioner, Alfred Health infectious Diseases Unit
Martyn Leeder, HIV Clinical Coordinator, Alfred Health infectious Diseases Unit

Learning Outcomes

- Discuss approaches for implementing nurse-led HIV care initiatives to address HIV comorbidities.
- Describe how electronic medical record data can be utilised to enhance the quality of HIV care.
- Discuss approaches and innovations to provide quality care to patients who struggle to engage in a standard outpatient model.
